The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That is what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissue because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That is how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

JAIL AT PARIS HOLDS FOLSOM

Marshal Wilcox Places Choctaw Indian Safe Behind Bars.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Wilcox of Durant has returned home from a long journey, from his second trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, and Paris, Texas, and at the latter place he jailed Robert L. Folsom, a Choctaw Indian, who is wanted in the Federal court at Paris on an indictment charging him with the killing of Alfred Strickland, another Choctaw, near Bennington, on Jan. 15, 1903. Folsom was arrested at the time of the killing and on preliminary examination his bond was placed at $10,000. He was indicted at the March term of court at Durant following the homicide, and both he and his alleged victim being Indians, he claimed a change of venue to the Paris Federal court under a provision of the statute, which was granted. After the case was transferred to Paris the defendant was granted bail in the sum of $8,000, which he gave.

After being released he left the country and his bond was declared forfeited at the April term. From his home near Bennington Folsom went to Mexico and lived on the coast awhile. He then traveled through New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, Utah and Montana, working in railroad and mining camps. He spoke English fluently, but cultivated a full beard and for many months worked in railroad camps with Greeks and other foreigners, and was taken for one of them. The bondsmen of the fugitive employed Deputy Marshal Wilcox to apprehend him, and offered a reward of $1,000. The Deputy Marshal first heard of him in New Mexico and went out there in search of him. He trailed him to Flagstaff, Ariz., where all trace was completely lost. The cause of it was that Folsom with two other men had gone out in the mountains ninety miles away to sink a shaft in a prospect hole and remained there two months. Mr. Wilcox returned home and last October heard that Folsom was at Salt Lake City. He made a trip to Utah, without finding him, but left a description and photograph with C. Frank Emery, the sheriff of Salt Lake county, and enlisted his services to assist in locating him. Deputy Wilcox returned home and in November received a telegram from the Salt Lake sheriff stating that Folsom had been captured. Mr. Wilcox made a second trip out there and found that he was the wrong man. About two weeks ago he received another message from Salt Lake that Folsom had been captured, and made a third trip, leaving Durant on the 17th inst. This time the right man proved to be under arrest.

When Marshal Wilcox reached home yesterday he had traveled 13,215 miles and had paid $1,028 in expenses.

BIG MEETING OF TEACHERS

Annual Session of Territory Association to Convene at South McAlester.

Muskogee, I. T., Dec. 26.—What will probably be the biggest meeting of school teachers ever held in the territory will convene at South McAlester Dec. 28 for a three day's session. This is the annual meeting of the Indian Territory Teachers' Association, but on account of the peculiar condition in which the schools of the territory now are it is likely that every teacher who can possibly get there will be present, for at this meeting there is likely to be formulated into a memorial to Congress the ideas of the active teachers of the territory as to what sort of a school system should be inaugurated for the new state, or what is necessary in case statehood is not granted this session. Unless there is congressional legislation before the 4th of March, every tribal school teacher, every teacher paid out of the government funds, about 700 in all, will be out of employment because the tribal funds and the present appropriation by the government will not be available after that time.

TORPEDO CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH

Dies of Fright When Team Was Scared By An Explosion.

Muskogee, I. T., Dec. 28.—The story of a remarkable death comes from Tahlequah, where Carrie Moss, 14 years old, who lives in the country near that place, was frightened to death. The girl was sitting in the wagon while her mother was doing some shopping in a nearby store. A boy came along and exploded a torpedo near the girl. The team became frightened and tried to break away, and another horse hitched to a post pulled that down, causing considerable excitement for a time. When the excitement was passed it was found that the girl was dead. She was lying on the bottom of the wagon without a mark of violence upon her, and it was evident that she had not died because of any injury. The physicians state that her death was due to heart failure, caused by fright. No arrests have been made.

Merchants are highly pleased with the Christmas trade. For a solid week they were kept busy early and late supplying the demands of the crowds of people. Saturday, the grand rush day, many of the clerks were unable to find time to get their dinner and delivery teams were fagged down and out. The business done was most pleasing.

BUSINESS STOPPED.

All of the Government Departments Were Closed Owing to Christmas. Washington, Dec. 26.—Official Washington celebrated Christmas by a general suspension of governmental business.

All the government departments were closed to public business. Some of the cabinet officers were at their desks, however, for a time attending to important mail and telegraphic advices.

President Roosevelt appeared at his office only long enough to dispose of a few matters of importance which demanded his attention. He did not attend church service, remaining during the morning hours with the members of his family. Intimate personal friends called at the white house in the morning.

During the morning there was a general gift giving at the white house, confined practically to members of the family. The president's third son, Archie, as usual, had a Christmas tree in his own room, and from that he distributed his gifts to the family and the household people.

During the afternoon the president and Mrs. Roosevelt went for a long ride. A family dinner was given at the white house later in the day. Among the guests was Representative Nicholas Longworth.

Throughout the city business generally was suspended and the day was very like Sunday in the national capital.

TRAGIC INTERRUPTIONS.

Illuminating Gas Snuffed Out the Lives of a Couple of Men.

New York, Dec. 26.—A tragic interruption of the Christmas festivities occurred at the home of Mrs. Paul Rahmond, when her stepbrother, John Muscov, and his friend, Cassman, who had been invited to join in a family reunion, were found dead in bed. The man, who had recently arrived from Russia, was unacquainted with the use of illuminating gas and blew it out when they retired.

Another fatality of the day was that of five-year-old Sadie O'Neill, who was burned to death by her clothing catching fire from a Christmas tree at her home in East One Hundred and Second street.

CHRISTMAS WAS MERRY

Durant Celebrates the Glorious Day Joyously and Happily.

Christmas—the day commemorate of the supreme event in sacred history, the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ—was thoroughly and quietly observed according to the time honored custom. Candidly and truly, it was with most of us a merry Christmas.

We really had two days of Christmas this year. Sunday was given largely to thanksgiving and religious praise, Christ ruling in the hearts of the masses. Monday was given to joys and pleasures of the world, greeting and feasting.

The Christmas trees at the churches Saturday night and Monday night were largely attended and presents were distributed and hearts gladdened. Sunday morning and evening there were held services at all the churches, and the sermons, all touching on the King of Zion, were most ably and touchingly delivered and were listened to by large congregations of people.

Sunday night the young folks gathered in parties and merrily chased the time away until the midnight hour and then ushered in Christmas day with the booming of cannon, the ringing of bells and the singing of Christmas carols.

Along in the early morning, just before the breaking of day, the little folks awoke to find their stockings "chug" full of gifts from Santa presents that brightened the eyes and sweetened the hearts of the givers as well as the receivers.

Nonstop came with feasting with the neighbors and loved ones. Dinners good enough for presidents and kings were placed before the select, and right well did the people do justice to the turkey, cakes and other foods delicious and wholesome.

The weather was ideal for Christmas. There was a general turnout of the people yesterday. The downtown district was a busy, moving scene. A few were too full for utterance, while others were too utterable for fullness. Some went courting, others went promenading, while others went hunting. Some spent the day as becometh recipients of His grace, and "entered into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise."

The people of the city were generously provided for. The work of the charity organizations and the open pursed people did much to make Christmas enjoyable among the more unfortunate ones.

There was some "boozing with the boys," but there were but few disabled and riotous ones, and no casualties. It has been truly a merry Christmas. Kris Kringle has been kind to the young and old alike and heavily laden festal boards attest that ours is yet a land of plenty and that the people have much to be thankful for.

MURDER AVENGED.

Police Officer Fatally Cut and Negro Doing Deed Killed in Jail.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 26.—A negro man, while on a Christmas drunk at St. Petersburg, fatally cut Captain J. J. Mitchell, a special police officer, who died in a few minutes from the injuries. The negro was placed in jail, but in thirty minutes a mob congregated and one of the crowd shot through the window of the jail, killing the negro.

Deplorable Affair.

Washington, Pa., Dec. 26.—Just as she was hanging a doll for her little sister, on a Christmas tree, at her home in Hazeltown Sunday night, Mary, the nine-year-old daughter of James Kennedy, received a bullet in the head from a revolver fired through the door from outside. She died Monday. Four arrests have been made.

Aged Lady Passes Away.

Milford Mass., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Almira Pierce Johnson, one of the oldest members of the Woman's Relief Corps in the country and of the Daughters of the American Revolution, died here at the age of 101, and 6 months.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—Dr. G. G. GARRAN.

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boechie's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration. But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure, as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.
